Under the federal E-SIGN Act, with your consent, Deserve (hereinafter also “We” “Us” or “Company”) can deliver information and required disclosures to you electronically (“electronic communication”) and can use electronic records and electronic signatures in connection with your transactions with us.

Deserve’s program is focused on web-based efficiencies. It does not offer a non-electronic application process (e.g., paper or by telephone). Therefore, please review the terms of this Electronic Consent Policy prior to giving your consent, and retain a copy of this document, as well as all other electronic communication for your records.

Your consent is effective until withdrawn by you.

If you choose to withdraw consent, the option to electronically download documents and records from the website in addition to receiving statements and notice via USPS shall remain.

Should you decide to withdraw your consent after beginning the application process and before a decision on the application can be made (e.g., not completing the application process or not submitting all required documentation/information to complete your application), you agree to allow us to maintain your email address for the purpose of forwarding any required decision and notice. For example, federal regulations require that financial institutions, such as Deserve, provide applicants with a decision on a credit lending application within 30 days of receiving a completed application. A withdrawal of your consent may result in adverse action on an application or account you have with us, inability to use or access certain Company products, features, or services, and other outcomes set forth in your cardholder agreement.

At times, we may forward marketing information. You may opt-out of receiving marketing information at any time. However, as noted in the preceding paragraph, we may still
